PART B

1. Context

The school curriculum comprises all learning and other experiences that each school plans for its pupils. The development and implementation of the school curriculum is the responsibility of the Headteacher; the school curriculum must serve the interests of all its students, and must comply with this Trust policy and with appropriate DfE legislation and guidance

2. Trust School Curriculum policies

All schools in the Greenshaw Learning Trust must adopt and maintain a curriculum that is in accordance with this Policy, with appropriate DfE legislation and guidance, and serves the interests of all its students.

Each school must offer a curriculum which is balanced and broadly based and which:

- promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils at the school and of society; and
- prepares pupils at the school for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life.

(Academies are required to ‘offer a broad and balanced curriculum’ under Section 1 of the 2010 Academies Act.)

The National Curriculum forms one part of the school curriculum; whilst, as academies, Trust schools are not formally required to follow the National Curriculum, Trust schools must take account of the National Curriculum in planning their own school curriculum, and have regard to it as ‘good practice’.

All Trust schools must:

- make provision for personal, social, health and economic education (PSHE), drawing on good practice.
- teach relationship and sex education to pupils, taking account of DfE guidance on sex and relationship education.
- make provision for a daily act of collective worship and must teach religious education to pupils at every key stage.

Schools are free to include other subjects or topics of their choice in planning and designing their own programme of education.

The following information must be clearly set out in the school’s agreed curriculum statement and published on the school website:

- the school’s approach to the curriculum.
- the content of the school’s curriculum for each subject in relation to each academic year.
- In relation to Key Stage 1: the names of any phonics or reading schemes in operation.
- In relation to Key Stage 4: a list of the courses provided that lead to a GCSE qualification and list of other courses offered at Key Stage 4 and the qualifications that may be acquired.

The school must also publish on its website details about how additional information relating to the curriculum may be obtained.

(In accordance with DfE guidance and the terms of the Academy Trust Handbook and GLT Funding Agreements.)
